- (7) Shipping fees are to be paid by the mare/jennet owner. The jack owner will determine the best method of shipping and will notify. The mare/jennet owner is to notify the jack owner/manager two weeks prior to the planned breeding date and again within 48 hours before the transported semen is to be shipped.
- (8) West Farm Mules jack owner/manager, will not be responsible for incurring costs for preparing mare for breeding in the event semen shipment is delayed or not received on scheduled day of delivery (E.I.) vet fees, boarding or any related fees.
- (9) In the event the mare/jennet fails to conceive after breeding through three heat cycles the jack owner/manager offers the following options:
- (10) If mare/jennet does not become pregnant, the breeding facility will need a letter from Veterinarian stating that: the mare is not pregnant. Before additional semen will be sent.
- (11) West Farm jack owner/manager, will not be responsible for incurring costs for preparing mare for breeding in the event semen shipment is delayed or not received on scheduled day of delivery (E.I.) vet fees, boarding or any related fees.
- (12) In the event the mare/jennet fails to conceive after breeding through three heat cycles the jack owner/manager offers the following options:

A return breeding will be granted (without additional stud fees) for the same mare/jennet if the mare/jennet is examined by a licensed Veterinarian for a reproductive evaluation and found to be reproductively sound.

Another mare/jennet may be substituted. The return breeding privilege will expire 24 months after the date of the first service to the mare/jennet named above.

(13) Live foal guarantee. Should the mare/jennet not produce a live foal that stands and nurses the mare/jennet owner shall also be entitled return breeding privileges. This privilege shall apply only if the jack owner/manager is notified by registered mail within 48 hours of the foal's death. A statement of details by a licensed Veterinarian must follow within 10 days or the privilege becomes null and void. This clause is also binding in case of abortion.

(14) Limitations regarding the jack include: During times of greatest demand, there may be days when semen availability is limited and semen delivery may therefore be delayed. Jack owner/manager reserves the right to suspend semen collections during times of competition. Should the jack die, become unfit for service, be sold, the stud fee will be refunded upon mare/jennet owner's written request. Upon refund of the stud fee both parties will be released from this agreement, which will then be null and void.

(15) This agreement cannot be transferred by the mare/jennet owner in the event the mare/jennet is sold, leased or otherwise changes ownership after having been bred by semen from the jack, thus there will be no right to return.

(16) The mare/jennet owner agrees that if the breeding contract is not used within the next two subsequent years, the contract will be considered null and void, and all fees will be forfeited.

(17) This agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State in which the jack resides.
